

Rev. Tony Jackson has, for some time, felt concern that many who look to the church for help are often turned away towards the direction of other organisations – sometimes even secular ones - by a church which feels inadequately prepared to help. And yet, the most effective help is readily available and divinely given to the church alone. Tony is living proof that God is still doing miracles in people’s lives in the twenty-first century. A life that had become a bizarre, nightmarish blur of alcoholic unreality, homelessness and crime, until God reached down from His throne in heaven and picked Tony up out of the gutter. Since graduating with a BA Hons. at bible college, now an ordained minister Tony led a small Church on a council estate for 8 years. Now he is primarily involved with the registered charity that he set up with his wife Cynthia. As well as stepping in, in a local church where needed now Tony is regularly on mission, helping the poor and needy, teaching and preaching the Gospel amongst indigenous tribal groups in the Philippines and India, as well as running training conferences for ministers and church leaders in those countries. This book is not just another para-church, group-therapy step-programme. This is realistic equipping for the church to be more able to bring the only permanent solution that there is, within the context of being church and reaching out to the lost and dying who are in bondage and captivity as the result of sin, through corrective teaching of scripture in the discipling process. The teachings within this small book were received by Tony over many years of counselling from a number of contributors, and now have been passed on and taught, to thousands of pastors and church leaders in India, Philippines and Uganda as well as the UK.
